

Whistleblower guidelines

Who can submit a report?

The Whistleblower Scheme applies to every person in or interacting with the Company. That includes but is not limited to employees (current and former), managers, board members, investors, contractors, vendors, or other individuals interacting with the Company.

What can be reported?

At Continia Software, we aim to foster respectful communication.

Whenever possible, concerns should be addressed directly with the immediate manager or management team member without fear of retaliation, harassment, or discrimination.

However, the standard communication channels might not be adequate in certain situations. In such cases, Continia Software Whistleblower reporting system provides a safe and anonymous avenue to report concerns about unlawful or unethical conduct related to Continia Software and should not be used for false accusations or knowingly reporting untrue information.

For example,

- breaches of certain types of EU-law
- serious breaches of the law and other serious offences
- harassment and sexual harassment

When you have submitted a report to Continia Software's Whistleblower Scheme:

As a standard procedure, you can expect to receive confirmation of the receipt of your report from Continia Software within 7 days of submission. Typically, feedback regarding the status and outcome of your report will be provided no later than 3 months after the initial confirmation. This feedback may encompass details about the actions taken or planned to address your report. However, in certain cases where a thorough and extensive investigation is necessary due to the specific nature of the case, the feedback period may be extended for up to 6 months. Should such an extension be required, you will be duly informed within 3 months from the date the whistleblower committee received your report.
